Harmonious bed climate

A harmonious bed climate is of vital importance for a relaxing, healthy sleep. It is pleasant in hot summer months and, warm and dry in winter.

The bed climate is influenced by many factors: room temperature, humidity, breathability of the bed contents, and, of course by the sleeper through his/her own heat generation and sweating. The heat and moisture regulation alone have a huge impact on the quality of sleep.

During sleep, the body's demand for heat is definitely higher. Moreover, toxins are excreted through the skin by sweat. Therefore it is important to have a dry-warm bed climate with the help the right materials. This can happen when the whole sleep system beginning with mattress toppers, duvets, sheets, pillows and even your pajamas are made from natural materials.

Pure Wool - handcrafted from 100% biologically active virgin sheep's wool

There is a material that guarantees a harmonious bed climate all year: natural, bio-active sheep's wool. The wool of the sheep is a unique "climate fiber" when it's cold outside, sheep's wool warms, and when it's warm outside, it cools. Sheep's wool is one of the best all-weather fibers of all. Its extraordinary ability to absorb about 30% of its own weight in moisture without feeling damp to the touch and dispense it to evaporate into the air makes sheep's wool an ideal bedding material. At SAMINA, many aspects are taken into consideration when acquiring the valuable raw materials. SAMINA virgin sheep's wool is distinguished mainly by its fineness and pronounced curling. After humanely shearing from live sheep, the wool is gently washed and processed into wool fleeces and fabrics before toppers, duvets and pillows are filled then manually sewn. Only this careful processing by hand preserves the many positive properties of the wool fleece.
